SERMON SUMMARY

Carrying Miracles, Daily John 4:43-54

This Easter, as we celebrate the Resurrection, we are reminded that the true miracle may not just be found in the healings or even the empty tomb, but in the act of belief itself. In John 4:43–54, we encounter a royal official—a man of worldly power and outsider status—who humbly comes to Jesus, burdened with desperation over his dying son. Despite a seemingly cold response from Jesus and the judgmental expectations of those around him, the man chooses faith over fear, belief over status, and persistence over pride. He simply invites Jesus into his pain and trusts His word. That trust-belief against all odds-is the miracle. The story reminds us that miracles aren't only about physical healing but about the transformation of hearts, homes, and whole households through faith. This Resurrection season, let us examine not just whether we believe in Jesus, but why-and be challenged to cast aside the barriers, voices, and expectations that keep us from trusting the One who brings life. The miracle of belief is not only that it changes our circumstances—it changes us. For one who is changed, fortified, and sustained by word of God, will never falter to circumstance!
