

The background of the image features a faint, light-colored illustration of a large crowd of people. Many of the figures have their hands raised in prayer, with some showing open palms and others with fingers spread. The style is reminiscent of a woodcut or a detailed line drawing, giving it a historical or biblical feel. The crowd is dense, filling the entire frame behind the central text.

Nehemiah 1:1-11: Seeing Clearly, Grieving Honestly

As we begin a new year, our church enters a season of prayerful reflection and renewed hope. Starting this Sunday, we'll begin a new sermon series from the book of Nehemiah titled "Rebuilding Together: Following God into What's Next."

This series will explore how God's people handle change faithfully, discover purpose and belonging, follow God into the unknown, and grow as true disciples together. Nehemiah reminds us that renewal begins with prayer, honesty, and a shared commitment to trust God—no matter our age, ability, or season of life.

Whether you've been here for many years or only a short time, you have a place in this journey. We invite you to join us as we listen for what God is rebuilding among us.

WELCOME
