

And a voice from heaven said,

“This is my dearly loved Son, who brings me great joy.”

Spiritual Formation Series: The Voice Above the Waters

Gospel of Matthew 3:13–17

In a world that tells us to define, prove, and build ourselves, many are left exhausted—striving for an identity that never feels secure. In this message, we look at the baptism of Jesus Christ and discover a powerful truth: before He did anything, He was named, loved, and affirmed by the Father.

Spiritual formation begins not with achievement, but with receiving. Our deepest struggle is not just what we do, but whether we will accept who God created us to be. When identity is self-constructed, it becomes unstable—but when it is received from God, it becomes the foundation for a transformed life.

This sermon invites us to stop striving, start listening, and embrace the voice of the Father who declares over us: “You are Mine.” Salvation begins not with performance, but with surrender—coming to God as we are and receiving a new identity in Christ.
