Finding Purpose Beyond the Machine

3 John 1:9–11

The algorithm (machine/loop/system/box) offers a fake life—shaping our desires, lowering our expectations, and feeding our fleshly cravings for attention, approval, comfort, and control. Diotrephes became trapped in this narrow world. Having confused power and control with spiritual faithfulness, he pursued personal recognition while resisting the new work God was doing.

Gaius represents a different kind of person. He refuses to rest on past accomplishments or settle into comfortable, self-serving routines. Through humility, hospitality, and sacrificial service, he finds a greater, deeper, and often more demanding purpose in the limitless God working ahead of him. Like Peter, who, despite his failures, leaped from the boat to reach Jesus, faithful disciples and tired seekers refuse to remain comfortable or trapped in “less” while Christ is calling them forward into more. John invites us beyond a life manufactured around our appetites and into the abundant life of Christ—where true purpose is found by following Jesus, serving others, and remaining faithful as God continues to do wonderful new things.
